service shall be disseminated. However, if a definition of a service has not been issued by a 1 board or committee within 120 days of receipt of a request from a licensee, all those holding the 2 license may advertise the service. Those boards and committees shall adopt or modify 3 regulations defining what services may be advertised, the manner in which defined services may 4 be advertised, and restricting advertising that would promote the inappropriate or excessive use of 5 health services or commodities. A board or committee shall not, by regulation, unreasonably б prevent truthful, nondeceptive price or otherwise lawful forms of advertising of services or 7 commodities, by either outright prohibition or imposition of onerous disclosure requirements. 8 However, any member of a board or committee acting in good faith in the adoption or 9 enforcement of any regulation shall be deemed to be acting as an agent of the state. 10

"(j) The Attorney General shall commence legal proceedings in the appropriate forum to enjoin advertisements disseminated or about to be disseminated in violation of this section and seek other appropriate relief to enforce this section. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the costs of enforcing this section to the respective licensing boards or committees may be awarded against any licensee found to be in violation of any provision of this section. This shall not diminish the power of district attorneys, county counsels, or city attorneys pursuant to existing law to seek appropriate relief.

15. Section 652 of the Code states, in pertinent part:

"Violation of this article [Article 6, commencing with Section 650 of the Code] in the case 19 of a licensed person constitutes unprofessional conduct and grounds for suspension or revocation 20 of his or her license by the board by whom he or she is licensed, or if a license has been issued in 21 connection with a place of business, then for the suspension or revocation of the place of business 22 23 in connection with which the violation occurs. The proceedings for suspension or revocation shall be conducted in accordance with Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500) of Part 1 of 24 Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code [the Administrative Procedure Act], and each board 25 shall have all the powers granted therein." 26

27 16. Section 1793.02 of the Civil Code, also known as the Song-Beverly Consumer 28 Warranty Act, provides:

"(a) All new and used assistive devices sold at retail in this state shall be accompanied by the retail seller's written warranty which shall contain the following language: "This assistive device is warranted to be specifically fit for the particular needs of you, the buyer. If the device is not specifically fit for your particular needs, it may be returned to the seller within 30 days of the date of actual receipt by you or completion of fitting by the seller, whichever occurs later. If you return the device, the seller will either adjust or replace the device or promptly refund the total amount paid. This warranty does not affect the protections and remedies you have under other laws." In lieu of the words "30 days" the retail seller may specify any longer period.

18. Paragraph 15 above, referring to the costs provision of section 651, subsection (j), is re-alleged and incorporated herein by reference.

FACTS

6 19. Respondent Mark Moore established a series of corporate entities, including but not 7 limited to McDonald Hearing Aid Center (MHAC), designed to use the profession of fitting and 8 selling hearing aids to effect unlawful schemes that target vulnerable, elderly customers. These 9 unlawful schemes use false and misleading advertising to get elderly customers into multiple 10 branch locations throughout Northern California, where licensed Hearing Aid Dispensers, and 11 unlicensed individuals acting as dispensers, are motivated by corporate policies to sell the most 12 expensive hearing aids while disregarding the standards of care and professional ethics.

20. Licensed Hearing Aid Dispensers fitting and selling hearing aids in Respondent's branch locations are paid a minimal base salary with significantly increased rates of commission for selling upgraded hearing aid products and preventing returns. As a result, consumers are sold much more expensive hearing aids than necessary, and than advertised. Consumers are frightened and pressured into purchasing expensive hearing aids with false and scientifically unsupported statements.

19 21. Respondent's methods of false and misleading advertising include advertising a 20 $745.00 hearing aid product to lure consumers into stores where they are pressured and misled 21 into purchasing products costing several thousand dollars. Respondent further uses former news
22 anchor Stan Atkinson as a paid spokesperson without acknowledging his paid status to create a 23 false sense of trustworthiness.

24 22. Respondent advertises the sales to be "no risk" and "satisfaction guaranteed," but 25 consumers are subjected to onerous cancelation fees and return policies. One such policy is the 26 "Patient Journey." The Patient Journey is a six-week program created by Respondent that 27 requires the consumer to return to a MHAC branch location at least five times over the course of 28 six weeks to complete a series of exercises while wearing the hearing aids. Respondent informs consumers that this program is required under the Song-Beverly Act, but actually uses the program to evade the application of Song-Beverly, by manipulating the date on which the fitting is deemed by the dispenser to be complete. If the consumer seeks to return the hearing aids before the Patient Journey is complete, the dispenser will claim the consumer failed to complete the fitting. Alternately, if the consumer completes the patient journey, which requires longer than thirty days, the dispenser can claim the consumer failed to seek an adjustment or return the hearing aids within thirty days.

8 23. Regardless of whether the consumer completes the Patient Journey, Respondent 9 requires all consumers seeking to return hearing aids to complete a form, checking a box 10 indicating the grounds for return. The boxes, however, all correspond to reasons for return that 11 relate to price. Respondent then instructs dispensers to deny any refunds based on his 12 interpretation of Song-Beverly to preclude a consumer from returning hearing aids when the 13 consumer is dissatisfied with the price of the hearing aids.

24. MHAC is the second largest seller of hearing aids in the Sacramento Valley area, with Costco as its nearest competitor. Between January 2007 and November 2013, MHAC grossed 45 million dollars in sales of hearing aids. The grounds for discipline that follow illustrate the application of the unlawful business practices developed and employed by Respondent.

25. On or about April 19, 2011, P.D., an 84 year old woman, responded to an 20 advertisement distributed by Respondent's corporation, McDonald Hearing Aid Center (MHAC), 21 advertising a limited time five-day-only special, between April 18 through 22, of up to 67% off 22 prices, a free video ear inspection, and a $745.00 entry level hearing aid, with "satisfaction 23 guaranteed." On April 19, 2011, P.D. entered the MHAC branch location at 1400 X Street, Suite 24 300, Sacramento, CA 95818. P.D. had undergone a cardiac surgical procedure two weeks before 25 her visit to MHAC, and was consequently feeling fatigued at the time of her visit. She used a 26 walker to ambulate. 27

26. Hearing Aid Dispenser (HAD) Marion Nelson, (HA License No. 7416), employed by Respondent, conducted an audiogram hearing test on P.D. that showed a loss of hearing in P.D.'s right ear, and an air-bone gap in P.D.'s left ear. Nelson did not chart that he performed a bone conduction test for the right ear, or that he referred P.D. for testing by a physician due to the airbone gap in the left ear.

6 27. HAD Nelson told P.D. that her hearing loss was a 20 to 80 dB loss, which he claimed 7 was a moderate to severe loss. The chart of the audiogram Nelson used incorrectly classified the 8 ranges of hearing loss accepted by industry standards, by overstating the ranges of moderate to 9 severe hearing loss. P.D. inquired about the $745 hearing aid, but Nelson told her that this 10 hearing aid was not suitable for her needs. He proceeded to sell her an OTE Alpha Intela-Hear 11 hearing aid for $2,245.00. The hearing aid that was advertised by McDonald for $745.00 would 12 have been an appropriate hearing aid for P.D., by industry standards.

28. On April 20, 2011, Nelson and P.D entered into a Purchase Agreement in which P.D. purchased an OTE Alpha RIE Intela-Hear digital hearing aid for $2,245.00. The purchase agreement indicated that the hearing aid P.D. purchased was $4,990.00 and that P.D. was being given a 50% and AAA discount in order to arrive at the price of $2,245.00. Respondent and P.D.
signed the Purchase Agreement, and P.D. paid a deposit of $1,200.00 by credit card on April 20, 2011.

29. On or about June 16, 2011, P.D. was tested at the University of California, Davis, 19 Medical Center (Medical Center). The test administered by the Medical Center showed a mild 20hearing loss with no significant air-bone gap in either ear. After being tested by the Medical 21 Center, P.D. sought to cancel her order with MHAC, and obtain a full refund from Respondent. 22 HAD Melissa Peacock (HA License No. 7070), employed by Respondent as the Chief 23 Compliance Officer for MHAC corresponded with P.D. informing her that her cancelation was 24 subject to a $336.83 cancelation fee. Under the MHAC's Purchase Agreement, MHAC imposed 25 a fifteen percent cancelation fee on P.D. of $336.83. 26 111 27

Consumer M.B.

43. During January of 2012, Sister M.B., an elderly catholic nun, received a hearing test 5 at a Kaiser Permanente Facility and was advised that she had a mild to moderate hearing loss that 6 would benefit from hearing aids. Sister M.B. relayed this information to the financial advisor of 7 her diocese, who advised her of their policy to conduct a price-comparison before making any 8 large purchase. Sister M.B. consulted with another nun, Sister F.W., who had observed several 9 10 advertisements for MHAC's sale on $700.00 hearing aids. Sister F.W. provided the advertisements to Sister M.B., and agreed to accompany her to the MHAC branch location to 11 compare prices. 12

44. On or about January 2012, Sister M.B. and F.W. entered the MHAC branch location in Lodi. Sister M.B. immediately explained that she was not authorized to make any purchases herself without consulting with her Order's financial advisor, and that she was merely there to conduct a price comparison of the $700.00 hearing aids she saw advertised. Sister M.B. was separated from Sister F.W., and led into a room by HAD Robert Bennett, (HA License No. 7365), who conducted a hearing test.

After the hearing test was completed Sister M.B. observed a woman who was 45. 19 wearing a white coat enter the room waving a graph dramatically, who stated, "you have a very 20serious hearing loss." The woman in the white coat, Ashley Brown, was issued HAD Trainee 21 License No. 8678 on or about May 25, 2010, and the license expired on or about November 30, 222011. Brown was not licensed to fit or sell hearing aids during her interactions with Sister M.B. 23 Sister M.B. was shaken and upset by the statements that she had a serious hearing loss, and found 24 that HAD Bennett was speaking a rush of words at her, and felt she could not get a word 25 26 in. Sister M.B. asked Brown about the $700.00 hearing aids advertised, but Brown told her that those are only suitable for people in the top part of the graph, and her hearing loss extended to the 27bottom of the graph. Sister M.B. restated to Bennett and Brown that she cannot make any large 28 expenditures without prior authorization from her Order. Bennett brought out paperwork for an order for hearing aids, and explained that if she did not fill out the forms, the offer would not be available later. Sister M.B. asked if she could take the paperwork with her to review before signing anything. Brown told her that she had already entered into the contract, and it did not really matter if she signed the paperwork or not. Sister M.B. finally signed the paperwork because she felt shaken up and wanted to leave.

46. MHAC records show that Sister M.B. entered into a purchase agreement with HAD 7 Bennett on January 20, 2012, for the purchase of a pair of Intela-Hear hearing aids at the cost of 8 $9,000.00. The records further show that she opened a credit card through Credit Care to finance 9 the purchase. Once Sister M.B. left the MHAC branch location and began reviewing the 10 purchase agreement, she saw that she had opened a credit card and had purchased an expensive 11 hearing aid package. As a result of her shock and distress, Sister M.B. was unable to drive herself 12 home, and she and Sister F.W. stayed the night in a nearby hotel. Sister M.B. was still shaken up 13 that evening, and tripped and fell, causing her wrist to fracture. 14

47. On or about January 23, 2012, Sister M.B. called MHAC and left a message for Bennett explaining that she wanted to cancel her order. On or about January 26, 2012, Bennett returned Sister M.B.'s call and told her that any cancelation would incur a 15% cancelation fee, but that she could avoid the cancelation fee if she went through with the order and completed the Patient Journey and was not satisfied with the hearing aids.

48. On or about February 15, 2012, HAD Melissa Peacock, Chief Compliance Officer for MHAC, wrote a letter to Sister M.B. advising her that a cancelation fee of $673.65 was being imposed, but that she could choose to apply that fee towards the purchase of another Intela-Hear hearing aid instrument through MHAC.

ACCUSATION (1C-2012-17)

58. On or about February 10, 2012, M.S. was given an audiometric hearing test by HAD Michele Moreland (HA License No. HA 7507). HAD Moreland then introduced M.S. to Ashley Brown who was not licensed to fit or sell hearing aids in California. Brown told M.S. that she had a "50% hearing loss" and advised her to purchase a pair of hearing aids for $4,990.00. M.S. 4 asked Brown why she could not have the $745.00 hearing aid advertised, and Brown told her that the entry level hearing aid was not suitable for her needs. M.S. told Brown that she would like to have a second opinion. Brown told her that it was unnecessary as MHAC had been in business for 60 years. Brown proceeded to make molds of M.S.'s ears.

On or about February 10, 2012, M.S. entered into a purchase agreement for a pair of 9 59. Intel-a Hear model hearing aids for a total cost of $4,990.00. The purchase agreement indicated 10 that the hearing aid package M.S. purchased was $9,980,00 and that M.S. was being given a 50% 11 discount in order to arrive at the price of $4,990.00. M.S. paid the full amount with her Discover 12 13 credit card. As soon as M.S. returned home, she was concerned that she overspent on hearing aids, when she only intended to purchase the $745.00 hearing aid, given that she was on a fixed 14 income and care-giver to her elderly World War II veteran husband. She contacted her credit 15 card company and requested that it stop payment, but the company told her that it was too late. 16 On or about February 13, 2012, M.S. contacted MHAC to ask about rescinding her purchase, and 17 was told she could not. 18

On or about March 2, 2012, M.S. went to MHAC and told HAD Moreland that she 60. 19 did not want to continue with the hearing aid purchase. Moreland told her that she would be able 20 to return the devices for a refund if the hearing aids did not work for her. M.S. accepted delivery 21 of the hearing aids on March 2, 2012. On or about March 12, 20112, M.S. had another 22 23 appointment with MHAC, during which she told Moreland that the hearing aids were not working, and she was seeking a second opinion. Between March 12, and May 2, 2012, M.S. 24 persisted in seeking a refund from MHAC. Staff at MHAC repeatedly told her that she must 25 come into the branch locations and make appointments to see Moreland to discuss her case, 26 which required several more trips for her. On or about April 2, 2012, M.S. received a letter from 27

4	stating that she had a mild to moderately severe sensorineural hearing loss consistent with
5	presbycusis. The physician opined that for M.S.'s condition and her degree of hearing loss,
6	hearing aids are optional. M.S. provided this document to MHAC. On or about May 30, 2012,
7	MHAC refunded the purchase on the Discover credit card.

24	(c) Moreland entered into a purchase agreement with M.S. with the knowledge that MHAC

26	(d) Moreland falsely told M.S. that she could return the devices for a refund if the hearing

5	69. Respondent is subject to disciplinary action under section 2533, subsection (i), in that

9	(Violation of the Song-Beverly Act)
10	70. Paragraphs 19-22 and 55-59 above are incorporated by reference as if fully set forth
11	herein.
12	71. Respondent is subject to disciplinary action under section 2533, subsection (k), in that
13	he violated Section 1793.02 (Song-Beverly Act), by imposing a 15% cancelation fee and failing
14	to promptly refund M.S.'s entire purchase price.
15	Consumer D.G.
16	72. On or about October 16, 2012, D.G., a 77 year old woman, responded to an
17	advertisement by MHAC for a limited time five-day-only special, between October 15 through
18	19, of up to 67% off prices, a free video ear inspection, and a $745.00 entry level hearing aid,
19	with "satisfaction guaranteed" and a six-week, no risk, nothing to lose guarantee. The
20	advertisement showed a picture of Stan Atkinson holding a hearing aid, with the words "Stan
21	Atkinson, Intela-Hear Wearer" next to his picture. There was no disclaimer indicating that Stan
22	Atkinson was a paid spokesman for the product or for MHAC. On October 16, 2012, D.G.
23	entered the MHAC branch office at 433 F Street in Lincoln, California.
24	73. HAD Nelson performed an audiogram on D.G. and informed her that she had a
25	moderate hearing loss. The audiogram indicates that D.G.'s right ear had an air bone gap, but he
26	did not inform D.G. of this result, and HAD Nelson did not refer D.G. to a medical doctor for a
27	consultation. The chart of the audiogram Nelson used incorrectly classified the ranges of hearing
28	loss accepted by industry standards, by overstating the ranges of moderate to severe hearing loss.

An unidentified HAD working in the MHAC branch location that day showed D.G. only expensive hearing aids, not the $745.00 hearing aid advertised. D.G. reported feeling pressured into purchasing more expensive hearing aids.

74. On October 16, 2012, D.G. entered into a purchase agreement with Nelson for a pair 4 of Intela-Hear model hearing aids for $6,741.00. The purchase agreement indicated that the 5 hearing aids D.G. purchased were $14,980.00 and that D.G. was being given a 50% and AAA 6 discount in order to arrive at the price of $6,741.00. The next day, on October 17, 2012, D.G. 7 decided to cancel the contract, and she went in person to the Lincoln office but it was closed. She 8 telephoned another MHAC office to cancel but was told that she had to come in person to the 9 office to cancel. On October 18, 2012, D.G. went to the MHAC office in Lincoln and met with 10° Nelson. D.G. signed a Request for Cancelation. A few days later, D.G. received a statement 11 from HealthiPlan, a credit company, for $6,741.00. D.G. did not realize that on October 16, 12 2012, she had signed an application for financing of the hearing aids. D.G. contacted HAD 13 Melissa Peacock, Chief Compliance Officer for MHAC, and was told she would be charged a 14 15% cancelation fee of $1.011.15. 15

75. On or about November 6, 2012, D.G. went to the University of California at Davis Medical Center for an audiological evaluation. The test results indicated that her hearing loss was mild, and she was not a candidate for hearing aids. When shown this paperwork, MHAC agreed to waive the 15% cancelation fee.

77. Respondent is subject to disciplinary action under section 2538.39, (Owner Responsibility for the Fit and Sale at a Location Owned/Managed by Him) for the gross negligence of HAD Nelson in the fit and sale of hearing aids to D.G. HAD Nelson violated section 2533, subdivision (f), gross negligence, in that he incorrectly charted an air-bone gap in D.G.'s right ear, incorrectly recorded her actual hearing loss and need for hearing aids, and failed

1	to inform her of the charted air-bone gap or refer her to a physician based on the charted bone-air

10	Nelson violated section 2538.36, subdivision (a), and Title 16, section 1399.126, subdivision (c),

19	misrepresented to D.G. that she had a moderate hearing loss and required hearing aids.
20	81. HAD Nelson committed a dishonest or fraudulent act when he recommended and sold

Consumer A.A.

88. On or about November 13, 2013, A.A., an elderly man in his 80's, responded to an 7 advertisement by MHAC for a limited time five-day-only special with up to 67% off prices, a free 8 video ear inspection, and a $745.00 entry level hearing aid, with "satisfaction guaranteed" and a 9 six-week no risk, nothing to lose guarantee. The advertisement showed a picture of Stan 10 Atkinson holding a hearing aid, with the words "Stan Atkinson, Intela-Hear Wearer" next to his 11 12 picture. There was no disclaimer indicating that Stan Atkinson was a paid spokesman for the product or for MHAC. On or about November 13, 2013, A.A. entered the MHAC branch office 13 at 433 Butano Drive, in Sacramento, California. 14

89. A.A. was seen by two licensed HADs at the Butano Branch location on November 15 13, 2013, HAD Karen Roark (HA License No. 7546), and HAD Michelle Moreland. HAD 16 17 Moreland conducted audiometric testing on A.A. The results of the hearing test show that a bone conduction test was performed on A.A.'s left ear, but no bone conduction test was performed on 18 19 A.A.'s right ear. Following the hearing testing, Roark told A.A. that the $745 hearing aids advertised would not meet his needs for hearing assistance, and that he required a more expensive 20 set of hearing aids, costing $4,045.00 each, with the special limited time sale. Roark assured 21 A.A. that the more expensive hearing aids would increase his hearing by 90%, and that it was a 22 risk-free guarantee, and that he could receive his money back if he was not satisfied with the 23 hearing aids. 24

90. On or about November 13, 2013, A.A. entered into a purchase agreement with MHAC for the purchase of a pair of "Intela-Hear" brand hearing aids, model Nexus XD, at a price of $4,045.00 each for a total of $8,200.00. The purchase agreement indicates that the normal price of these hearing aids would have been $17,980.00 for the pair. At the time of sale,

A.A. paid half the price, writing a check to MHAC for $4,045.00. A.A. reported that he felt rushed through the purchase, and did not fully understand the details on the purchase agreement until he reviewed the document at his home that evening. He was concerned about having made such a large purchase, but decided that if the hearing aids were able to restore 90% of his hearing, it would be worth the cost.

91. On or about November 29, 2013, A.A. returned to the Butano Branch location of MHAC to accept delivery of the hearing aids. A.A. found the hearing aids to be uncomfortable the first time he put them on, with the left hearing aid causing him pain due to his arthritis, which extends into his head.

92. On or about December 13, 2013, A.A. attempted to return the hearing aids, indicating 10 he had spoken with an audiologist who informed him MHAC had misrepresented the degree of 11 hearing improvement he could achieve with hearing aids in that a 90% increase in hearing for his 12 condition was impossible with any known technology. MHAC refused to cancel the purchase 13 agreement and informed A.A. that he was required to complete the MHAC "Patient Journey" 14 before he could be eligible for a refund. On or about December 18, 2013, A.A. again attempted 15 to return his hearing aids for a refund. Once again MHAC informed him he was required to 16 complete the Patient Journey before he would be eligible for a refund. A.A. became angry 17 because he felt he had been misled with the "Satisfaction Guarantee, No Risk Refund" 18 advertisement. A.A. left his hearing aids at the MHAC branch location. 19

20 93. On or about December 18, 2013, A.A. contacted the Board to report the problem he 21 was having with MHAC. Investigators with the Department of Consumer Affairs received a summary of his interactions with MHAC from A.A., and agreed to accompany him on his next 22 23 meeting with MHAC. On or about December 19, 2013, Undercover Investigator No. 1 (Inv. 1) accompanied A.A. to the Butano Branch location assuming the role of A.A.'s 24 granddaughter. When they arrived, a receptionist told them that they must see HAD Moreland, 25 because she was responsible for A.A.'s fitting process and she is only in the Butano Branch 26 location on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Inv. 1 and A.A. returned to the Butano Branch location the 27 next day, Tuesday December 20, 2013, and met with Moreland. Inv. 1 told Moreland that A.A. 28 was unhappy with the hearing aids, because they hurt his ears due to his arthritis, and he wanted to return the hearing aids and obtain a refund. Moreland explained that A.A. cannot qualify for a 2 refund under state law until he has provided an opportunity for seller to adjust and fit the hearing 3 aids, and that under the terms of the purchase agreement A.A. entered into, the fitting must be 4 completed through MHAC's Patient Journey which requires five separate appointments and approximately four to six weeks to complete. She further reminded A.A. that he owed the second 6 payment $4,045.00 for the purchase of the hearing aids.

When Inv. 1 asked why A.A. was not eligible for a refund, Moreland stated that A.A. 8 94. had made a statement complaining that the sales process was misleading and complained that the 9 10 hearing aids were overpriced. Moreland claimed that under California law a consumer is not 11 entitled to a refund of hearing aids due to buyer's remorse over the cost. A.A. denied that he was dissatisfied with the cost, and clarified that he felt the hearing aids were not of the quality 12 13 promised for the price, and that the hearing aids were hurting his ear. Moreland acknowledged A.A. had complained of pain, but stated that even if the hearing aids are not fit properly or do not 14 work, the consumer must still give the seller the ability to adjust and fit the hearing aids. 15

During the December 20, 2013 visit with the Inv. 1, A.A. requested that Moreland 95. 16 17 alter the fit of the hearing aids because the aids were causing pain to his left ear. Moreland took the hearing aids to another room and returned, reporting that she had adjusted the shell casing to 18 minimize the material putting pressure on the canal walls of A.A.'s ears. A.A. placed the hearing 19 aids in his ears, and made another appointment for a fitting on January 8, 2013. On the drive 20 home from MHAC, A.A. complained to Inv. 1 that the hearing aids were still hurting his ear. 21

96. On or about January 4, 2014, and January 8, 2014, Inv. 1 and A.A. returned to the 22 Butano Branch location and sought a refund, complaining that the hearing aids still hurt A.A.'s 23 ear. A.A. filled out a request for a refund. On or about January 17, 2014, HAD Melissa Peacock 24 sent a letter to A.A. informing him that he was not entitled to a refund because he kept the hearing 25 aids for longer than 30 days after delivery without seeking an adjustment, that he did not allow 26 the dispenser to perform an adjustment, and because complaints about price are not a valid 27 ground for a refund. 28

1	97. In reviewing consumer A.A.'s complaint MHAC, the Board obtained a report from an
2	independent expert who opined that for a person with A.A.'s hearing loss there would be very
3	little difference in power between the $745.00 hearing aid and the $4,045 hearing aid Moreland

12	Consumer A.K.
13	106. On or about May 9, 2012, A.K., an 82-year old woman, entered the Roseville Branch
14	of the MHAC at 1601 Douglas Boulevard, Roseville, California. She was met by HAD Robert
15	Bennett and HAD Melissa Peacock. HADs Peacock and Bennett conducted an audiogram test,
16	showing A.K. had a moderate to severe hearing loss. The audiogram test results show that A.K.
17	had an air-bone gap in the right ear of greater than 15dB, and does not show than any bone
18	conduction testing was done in the left ear. In the Medical History Form A.K. completed at
19	MHAC, she checked the box to indicate yes to the following three conditions: "pain and
20	Discomfort in the Ear"; "acute or recurring dizziness"; and "Ringing in the Ears." Despite these
21	indications and the air-bone gap shown on the audiogram, Bennett and Peacock failed to refer
22	A.K. for a medical clearance or consultation before proceeding with the sale of hearing aids.
23	107. On or about May 9, 2012, A.K. entered into a purchase agreement with HAD Bennett
24	for a pair of Intela-Hear hearing aids, for a total price of $4,941.00. The purchase agreement
25	indicated that the original cost of the pair was $10,980.00 and the she received a 50% off sale,
26	with an additional AARP discount. A.K. returned to the branch location on or about May 24,
27	2012 and was seen by HAD Bennett and fitted with hearing aids. A.K. has degenerative arthritis
28	in her jaws, and small ear canals. When she started wearing the hearing aids, she began to develop pain in her ears. She tried to keep wearing the hearing aids in the hope that she would get used to them, but after four days the pain persisted and got worse, and she removed them. 108. Even after removing the hearing aids, A.K. continued to have pain, and saw her doctor who referred her to an otolaryngologist. The otolaryngologist advised her to stop wearing the hearing aids, and return them. On or about June 1, 2012, A.K. returned to MHAC and asked to return the hearing aids due to severe degenerative arthritis, causing pain in her ears. Staff at MHAC told A.K. to continue wearing the hearing aids. On or about June 12, 2012, A.K. returned to MHAC, and provided staff with a copy of the otolaryngologist's note instructing her not to wear the hearing aids. Consumer J.C.

117. On or about January 24, 2012, J.C. an elderly man in his 90's, responded to an 5 advertisement by MHAC for a $745.00 hearing aid special offer, which claimed Satisfaction 6 7 Guaranteed, Full Refund, and No risk-Nothing to lose. The advertisement showed a picture of Stan Atkinson holding a hearing aid, with a testimonial in which he claims Intela-Hear hearing 8 aids have improved his hearing remarkably. There is no disclaimer indicating that Stan Atkinson 9 10 is a paid spokesperson. On or about January 24, 2012, J.C. entered the Roseville Branch of the 11 MHAC at 1601 Douglas Boulevard, Roseville, California. He was met by HAD Moreland and HAD Peacock. 12

13 118. HAD Moreland did audiometric testing on J.C., reporting that he had a moderate to 14 severe hearing loss. J.C. inquired about the $745 hearing aid, but was told he was not a candidate 15 for that hearing aid due to the severity of his hearing loss. On or about January 24, 2012, J.C.
16 entered into a purchase agreement with HAD Moreland for the purchase of a pair of Intela-Hear 17 hearing aids costing $6,290.00, recommended by Moreland as state of the art, and appropriate for 18 his needs.

19 119. On or about February 7, 2012, J.C. returned to the Roseville branch location and met with HAD Peacock. He was fit with the hearing aids he purchased, and signed the receipt for acceptance. Throughout February and March of 2012, J.C. returned to the Roseville branch location on at least six occasions to participate in the "Patient Journey" and to have multiple adjustments made to the hearing aids.

120. Following completion of the "Patient Journey" as defined by MHAC, J.C. still found that the hearing aids were not working well for him, and were unbearable to wear. On or about March 12, 2012, he submitted a request to return the hearing aids for a refund as stated in the advertisements and the terms of the purchase agreement.

1	121. Between March and May of 2012, J.C. and MHAC exchanged correspondence
2	regarding the request to return the hearing aids. On or about March 12, 2012, HAD Peacock
3	provided J.C. with a form called "Request for a Refund" requesting that he check one of four
4	boxes citing the reason for the return. The four options "Financial Hardship," "Purchase
5	Elsewhere," "Too Expensive," and "Other." J.C. checked Too Expensive and Other. On or about
6	March 19, 2012, MHAC mailed J.C. an unsigned letter indicating that he did not qualify for a
7	refund because a hearing aid dispenser is not required by law to provide a refund if the reason for
8	return is that they buyer feels he paid too much. The letter states that J.C. does not qualify for a
9	refund under the Song-Beverly Act, but that he can exchange his hearing aids or put the cost
10	toward the purchase of another pair of hearing aids to be purchased through MHAC.
11	122. In follow up statements and correspondence with HAD Peacock and MHAC, J.C.
12	explained that the reason he checked both Too Expensive and Other, was that he was trying to
13	communicate that the hearing aids were not working as promised, and that they are too expensive
14	for a defective product that is not working as represented. MHAC denied J.C.'s requests
15	informing him that his only reason for seeking to return the hearing aids was that he was unhappy
16	with the price.

Consumer E.W.

1	Consumer E.W.
2	129. On or about May 9, 2012, E.W., an 88 year old man and World War II veteran who
3	had suffered hearing loss from German artillery fire, responded to an advertisement by MHAC
4	for a limited time four-day-only special with 50% to 67% off prices, and a $745.00 entry level
5	hearing aid, with the printed statements "satisfaction guaranteed" and "Patient Journey program
6	guarantees better hearing in 6 weeks or receive a full refund No risk—Nothing to Lose." On
7	or about May 9, 2012, E.W. entered the Elk Grove branch of MHAC at 9139 West Stockton
8	Boulevard, Suite 140 in Elk Grove, California and was met by HAD Christopher Simon (HA
9	License No. 7485). HAD Simon conducted an audiometric test, which showed E.W. had a
10	moderate to severe hearing loss.
11	130. On or about May 9, 2012, E.W. entered into a purchase agreement with HAD Simon
12	for a pair of Intela-Hear hearing aids at a cost of $8,091.00. The purchase agreement stated that
13	the price was 50% off the usual price for the pair of $17,980.00. HAD Simon told E.W. that if he
14	was dissatisfied with the product, he could return it for a refund within 30 days.	1
15	131. On or about May 21, 2012, E.W. met again with HAD Simon and accepted delivery
16	of the hearing aids. After wearing the hearing aids for a few weeks, and returning to MHAC for
17	numerous appointments to participate in the Patient Journey, E.W. found that the new hearing
18	aids did not improve his hearing any better than his old hearing aids. On or about June 18, 2012,
19	he returned to the Elk Grove branch location and informed staff that he was not satisfied with the
20	hearing aids and wanted to return them. On or about June 18, 2012, he filled out the return form,
21	checking the box "Hearing Aids" and indicating that the hearing aids did not improve his hearing

23	132. Between June 18, 2012 and throughout July of 2012, MHAC corresponded with E.W.
24	on several occasions, refusing his request for a return and refund, and informing him he was
25	required to complete the Patient Journey before he could be considered for a refund. During June
26	and July of 2012, E.W. returned to MHAC's Elk Grove branch on at least four occasions and
27	completed the Patient Journey. At the completion, E.W. reported that he was still not satisfied

1	133. On or about June 27, 2012, MHAC sent E.W. a letter indicating that he was not
2	eligible for a refund under the Song-Beverly Act, because he had not allowed HAD Simon to
3	make adjustments during the 30-day period after receiving the hearing aids. E.W. denied that he

9	139. Respondent is subject to disciplinary action under section 2533, subsection (k), in that

12	Undercover Investigator's Trip to Roseville Branch of MHAC
13	140. On or about May 9, 2013, an older male Investigator with the Department of
14	Consumer Affairs assumed the role of a hearing aid consumer for the purpose of conducting an
15	undercover operation at MHAC. This male undercover investigator, (Inv. 2), worked in
16	coordination with Inv. 1. For the purposes of this investigation, Inv. 1 assumed the role of a
17	relative of Inv. 2. Investigator 2 had a hearing test with a licensed audiologist in preparation of
18	the undercover operation. Inv. 2 provided the results of his hearing test to a Board expert, to
19	determine whether the advertised $745.00 entry level hearing aid would be suitable for his
20	hearing loss. The Board expert determined that the entry level hearing aid would be suitable.
21	141. On or about May 9, 2013, Invs. 1 and 2 entered the Roseville branch of MHAC
22	located at Douglas Boulevard in Roseville, California, explaining that they had seen an
23	advertisement for hearing aids, and would like to learn more. The receptionist made an
24	appointment for Inv. 2, for the following day, explaining that a factory representative would be
25	available then to discuss hearing aids with Inv. 2.
26	142. On or about May 10, 2013, Inv. 1 and Inv. 2 returned to the Roseville Branch location
27	and were met by HAD Geraci-Staub (HA License No. 7585), and HAD Roy Bostick (HA License
28	No. 7278). HADs Geraci-Staub and Bostick led Inv. 2 to a separate room to perform a hearing test on Inv. 2. While Inv. 1 was waiting for Inv. 2 to complete his testing, Inv. 1 observed Stan Atkinson enter the branch location. Inv. 1 observed Stan Atkinson speak with the receptionist, explaining that he was at the branch location to assist in the promotional sale. Stan Atkinson spoke with another consumer waiting in the waiting area, and explained that he works for MHAC to help them sell hearing aids.

6 143. HAD Geraci-Staub returned to the waiting area to speak with the receptionist. She 7 held a piece of paper to the left side of her mouth to help conceal her words, but Inv. 1 could hear 8 Geraci-Staub tell the receptionist that she needed Allen Schoen, (HT License No. 8930), the 9 factory representative, to be present to make the sale. The receptionist asked Geraci-Staub if she 10 could do it, and Geraci-Staub responded that she could, but that she would rather have Schoen 11 there as he is more successful.

144. Inv. 1 next observed the receptionist, Geraci-Staub, Bostick, and Atkinson gather together in the area where hearing aids are adjusted. Inv. 1 heard them converse about the best way to approach Inv. 2 about the purchase of hearing aids. Geraci-Staub told Atkinson to talk to Inv. 2 about his grandchildren, as that is "the key" to selling hearing aids.

16 145. Geraci-Staub led Inv. 1 into the room where Inv. 2 was waiting and few minutes later 17 Stan Atkinson came into the room and spoke to Inv. 1 and Inv. 2. Stan Atkinson did not try to 18 sell any individual product, but he told Inv. 2 what a good product MHAC provided to him, and 19 how his hearing aids have changed his life, especially with his interactions with his 20 grandchildren. Stan Atkinson explained that he has the best product MHAC offers.

146. After Stan Atkinson left the room, Hearing Aid Trainee Allen Schoen entered the room and said that he would explain the hearing test and offer recommendations on hearing aids.
Inv. 2 showed Schoen an advertisement for a $745.00 hearing aid, and explained that was what brought him into the store. Schoen told Inv. 2 that the entry level hearing aid was only appropriate for people with a 35-40 decibel hearing loss. Schoen said that Inv. 2's hearing loss is not within that range, and that he would not be happy with the entry level hearing aid, and would miss certain frequencies. Schoen said Inv. 2 did not need the high end hearing aids, but could not

-1	use the entry-level ones either, and that the most appropriate hearing aids for him would be in the
2	middle, in the $3,500 to $5,500 price range.
3	147. Schoen showed Inv. 1 and Inv. 2 a price sheet, with higher and lower prices, and
4	explained that the lower prices were the promotional sale currently going on. Schoen
5	recommended Inv. 2 purchase a hearing aid package, and told him that an additional 30% off sale
6	was currently in effect, but that the price would increase if he returned on Monday. He told Inv. 2
7 .	that MHAC offered a 60 day program to help him with the hearing aids, and that if he is not
8	satisfied after the 60 days he can return the aids for a refund. He did not indicate that there were
9	any limits or restrictions on the refund. Inv. 2 told Schoen that he would need to speak with his
10	wife before he made any purchase, and Inv. 1 and 2 left the store.

19	include, but are not limited to the following:
20	(a) Schoen recommended and attempted to sell the expensive Intela-Hear hearing aids to
21	Inv. 2, and falsely claimed that the alternative of the $745.00 hearing aid that was advertised by
22	MHAC was not appropriate for Inv. 2;
23	(b) Schoen falsely represented that the sale price was a limited time 50% off price, with
24	additional limited time discounts; and

16	Undercover Investigator's Trip to Santa Rosa Branch of MHAC
17	152. On or about August 21, 2013, Inv. 1 and Inv. 2 went to MHAC branch location in
18	Santa Rosa in an undercover capacity with an appointment set up for Inv. 2 at 11:00 a.m. Inv. 1
19	and 2 entered the Santa Rosa branch location at 1425 Fulton Road, Suite 315, in Santa Rosa,
20	California, and were met by HAD Michelle Nielson (HA License No. 7276). HAD Nielson took
21	Inv. 2 to another room to perform a hearing test. After the hearing test was completed, Inv. 1
22	returned to the room with Inv. 2, and waited.
23	153. HAD Gregory Scott (HA License No. 3126), approached Inv. 2 and took him to 24	another room to discuss his test and recommend hearing aids. HAD Scott told Inv. 2 that he
25	should wear hearing aids. Scott told Inv. 2 that because of his hearing loss, his brain function is
26	starting to drop, and he is losing his ability to distinguish speech. Scott told Inv. 2 that this is
27	causing his short-term memory to be affected. Scot told Inv. 2 that wearing hearing aids will help
28	his ability to distinguish speech, and improve his memory.

1	154. HAD Scott showed Inv. 2 a hearing aid that would cost $7,500.00 each. Scott
2	explained that it is a medical device to retrain the brain, and that if he is not satisfied with them
3	after six weeks, he can return them for a refund. Inv. 2 asked Scott about the $745.00 hearing aid,
4	and Scott told him that he "might be able to get away" with a pair of hearing aids costing $3,490,
5	but that he should not get any hearing aids lower in cost than that. Scott explained that the
6	important thing is for Inv. 2 to wear hearing aids to prevent his short-term memory from being
7	impaired, as the theory now is that the precursor to dementia is hearing loss.

16	he:
17	(a) made misleading and unscientific statements to Inv. 2 when he told him that his hearing
18	loss is causing his brain function and memory to decline and by claiming that hearing aids will
19	prevent and/or cure brain dysfunction or cognitive decline; and
20	(b) made misleading statements to Inv. 2 as to the severity of his hearing loss and the
21	suitability of the $745.00 advertised hearing aid for his needs.
22	Undercover Investigator's Trip to Walnut Creek Branch of MHAC
23	157. On or about August 21, 2013, after Inv. 1 and 2 left the Santa Rosa branch location,
24	they traveled to the Walnut Creek branch location of MHAC. On or about August 21, 2013, Inv.
25	1 and 2 entered the Walnut Creek branch of MHAC at 1399 Ygnacio Valley, Suite 21, in Walnut
26	Creek, California, explaining that they did not have an appointment. Inv. 2 completed some
27	paperwork, and was seen by unlicensed individual Ashley Brown.
28

158. Ms. Brown directed Inv. 2 to go another room to have a hearing test with an audiologist. While Inv. 1 was waiting for Inv. 2 to complete his hearing test, she overheard Brown tell another customer that she does not give out business cards because she does not want consumers to call her after they leave the store.

5 159. After Inv. 2 completed the hearing test, Inv. 1 and 2 were led to another room where 6 they met with Ms. Brown. Brown discussed the hearing test, and what hearing aids would work 7 best for him. Brown told Inv. 2 that he had 80% trouble with his high frequency hearing. She 8 told him that if the volume of sound is turned up for him, he will have 100% hearing, and bring 9 his hearing back up to normal limits. Brown recommended that Inv. 2 purchase hearing aids that 10 cost $3,000.00.

160. As Inv. 1 and 2 continued to discuss hearing aids with Brown, she altered her 11 statement and said that she recommended Inv. 2 purchase hearing aids in the range of $5,000.00 12 to $7,000.00. She further explained that Inv. 2 would need to return once a week for adjustments, 13 for six weeks. She informed Inv. 2 that if he was not happy with the hearing aids after the six 14 weeks, he could return them for a full refund, but that if he canceled the order "today, tomorrow 15 or next week," he would be charged a 15% cancelation fee. Inv. 2 made a selection, and Ms. 16 Brown began to assemble paperwork for the sale. Then Inv. 1 and 2 informed Brown that they 17 are law enforcement officers, and cited her for a misdemeanor offense of fitting or selling hearing 18 aids without a valid license. 19

Brown, an unlicensed individual, in the attempted fit and sale of hearing aids to Inv. 2. Brown violated sections 2538.48 and 2538.50 by attempting to fit and sell and holding herself out as an

1	(Fraudulent Dishonest Act/Owner Responsible for Fit and Sale)
2	163. Paragraphs 19-22 and 155-158 above are incorporated by reference as if fully set

4	164. Respondent is subject to disciplinary action under section 2538.39, (Owner

7	dishonest acts of unlicensed individual Ashley Brown who attempted to fit and sell hearing aids
8	to Inv. 2 at the Walnut Creek branch location. Ms. Brown violated section 2533, subdivision (e),
9	and California Code of Regulations, title 16, section 1399.132, which incorporates section 651, in
10	that she committed fraudulent or dishonest acts in connection with the attempted sale of hearing
11	aids to Inv. 2., which include, but are not limited to the following:
12	(a) Brown made misleading statements to Inv. 2 as to the severity of his hearing loss and
13	the suitability of the $745.00 hearing aid for his needs;
14	(b) Brown told Inv. 2 that he could return the hearing aids for a full refund while omitting
15	significant information about limits and restrictions on the refund policy;

19	lacking a valid license to do so.
20	FORTY-FIRST CAUSE FOR DISCIPLINE
21	(Violation of the Song-Beverly Act)
22	165. Paragraphs 19-162 are hereby incorporated by reference and re-alleged as if fully set
23	forth herein.
24	166. Respondent is further subject to disciplinary action under section 1793.02 of the Civil
25	Code, (also known as the Song-Beverly Act), in that he established policies making it difficult or
26	impossible for consumers to return hearing aids even when the aids were not specifically fit for
27	their needs, or had been sold to them based on misinformation or unlawful business practices.
28
	46

Respondent effected this through manipulation of contract terms and establishment of a "Patient Journey" program designed to evade the application of the Song-Beverly Act.

167. The "Patient Journey" is a program created by MHAC in which consumers perform a series of tasks involving written materials, five computer-based exercises, and meetings with a MHAC employee. The computer-based exercises are referred to by the acronym "AWARE" and require the consumer to return to MHAC to use a computer terminal on at least five separate occasions. The written materials are referred to by the acronym "COZI" and require consumers to track their "progress" using the hearing aids. Follow up visits during which hearing aid dispensers are intended to adjust the fit are also required. The entire program requires at least five separate program requires at least five separate and the MUAC hearing for the acronym to require the separate program requires at least five separate to the MUAC hearing for the acronym to the entire program requires at least five separate the program to the MUAC hearing for the acronym to the entire program requires at least five separate to the MUAC here a least five separate program requires at least five separate to the program to the program for the program requires at least five separate to the fit are also required.

10 five separate trips to the MHAC branch location for the consumer, and approximately six weeks 11 to complete.

168. The MHAC employee responsible for administering the return policy and responding 12 to requests for refunds is HAD Melissa Peacock. Documents found on her computer during 13 execution of a search warrant at MHAC include a document titled "Guarantee Satisfaction 14 15 Program," which outlines the Patient Journey and states that if a patient does not complete the process then he or she did not meet the requirement under the Song-Beverly Act for a refund. 16 The document continues with instructions to the HAD that state: "YOU are the expert. YOU tell 17 the patient their treatment program. YOU tell the patient what their expectations are going to 18 19 be. Never let the patient tell you what they want you to do. YOU are in control of the patient's journey, not them." During interviews with investigators, Respondent stated that he interprets the 20 Song-Beverly Act as predicating a consumer's right to return a hearing aid on the "completion of 21 22 the fitting by the seller." He stated that due to lack of clarity in the law, a Hearing Aid Dispenser has the right to define what constitutes "completion of the fitting," and he defines it as having 23 completed the Patient Journey. 24

169. MHAC uses the lengthy process of the Patient Journey to ensure that when a consumer completes the Patient Journey, he or she will no longer qualify for a refund because completion of the Patient Journey requires more than thirty days. This is illustrated in the case of Consumer A.A. as alleged in Paragraphs 90-103 above. A.A. accepted delivery of his hearing aids on November 29, 2013, and first sought a return on December 13, 2013, but was told he was required to complete the Patient Journey. He made appointments and returned to MHAC to work on his Journey on December 18, and 20, 2013, and January 4, and 7, 2014, each time seeking to return the aids, and being told he cannot do so until he completed the Journey. On or about January 17, 2014, after A.A. completed the Journey, MHAC sent him a letter refusing to issue a refund, in part, because he kept the hearing aids for longer than 30 days after delivery without seeking an adjustment.

8 170. Similarly, during June and July 2012, E.W. completed the Patient Journey, and was 9 then told he did not qualify for a refund because he had not allowed HAD Simon to make 10 adjustments during the 30-day period after receiving the hearing aids.

171. This is a deliberate MHAC policy to prevent returns authorized by the Song-Beverly 11 Act. This policy is explicit in HAD Peacock's email to an employee, chastising the employee for 12 attempting to fulfill her professional obligations under the Song-Beverly Act. "Because you 13 adjusted the aids at the same time she wanted to return, now she qualifies. It was clear from the 14 notes..that she was frustrated with the price..so ended with Costco and bought something 15 else..cheaper, I'm sure. Even thought she didn't mark price, I could have written her a "not 16 17qualified" letter with no adjustment and price as the reason. Then she would have had to return 18 the Costco ones and kept ours." This email continues to instruct the employee: "I don't like to 19 jump patients to fill out the form but I will if I know the patient won't qualify. If they want to return first visit back, then DO NOTHING to the aids, fill out the form and they will NEVER 20 qualify." 21

172. The letters HAD Peacock issues denying returns are designed to effect Respondent's plan of evading the obligations under the Song-Beverly Act. Peacock makes this explicit in the email by directing the employee that: "It would help all of you if you think of the reasons why they can't return and what scenario works for/with the letters before you pull out the form or jump to fix the problem..."

173. Another MHAC policy designed to evade the application of the Song-Beverly Act is to provide a form document to the consumer, or elicit statements from the consumer indicating 1that the consumer is dissatisfied with the price of the product. Respondent has interpreted the2Song-Beverly Act not to require a HAD to return hearing aids if the consumer is dissatisfied with3the price. Toward that end, consumers are provided with a form letter to check boxes indicating4their reason for seeking to return the hearing aids. One such form gave options: "Financial5Hardship," "Purchased Elsewhere," "Too Expensive," and "Other." All three of the specified6choices are designed to elicit responses on which MHAC will claim it is not required to issue a7refund because the consumer is complaining about the price. This is seen in the case of consumer8J.C., who marked too expensive and other, in an attempt to indicate that the hearing aids did not9function as promised or as they should for the expensive price. MHAC denied his refund, partly10on the false ground that he had not sought an adjustment within the thirty days, and also because11his reason for return was the "impermissible" issue of price.12174. Respondent's conduct in using corporate policies to evade the application of the13Song-Beverly Act, constitutes a violation of section 1793.02 of the Civil Code.14FORTY-SECOND CAUSE FOR DISCIPLINE15(Use of Testimonials in a Way Likely to Mislead or Deceive in violation of section 651)16175. Respondent is further subject to disciplinary action under section 651, subsection17(b)(8), in that he used customer testimonials in a manner likely to mislead or deceive. The18cincumstances are as follows.19176. On or about August 20, 2013, consumer K.H., submitted a complaint to the Board20concerning testimonials he had seen in advertisements for MHAC.
